2025 Annual Report

Built for the Next Billion Shoppers

Lumina E-Commerce Corp. | NASDAQ: LUMA | Fiscal Year Ended December 31, 2025

Dear Lumina Shareholder,

2025 was the year Lumina moved from proving our model to scaling it. Across Southeast Asia and our newer markets in South Asia and the Gulf, we grew total revenue 16% to $14.82 billion, expanded operating margin to 11.2%, and generated $1.65 billion in free cash flow — our highest ever and more than 47% higher than a year ago.

Our thesis has not changed since we started Lumina in a Jakarta co-working space in 2014: commerce in fast-growing markets is won by whoever controls the full stack — discovery, checkout, payments, and the last mile. In 2025 we deepened that stack. Lumina Pay processed $9.1 billion in payment volume, up 31%, and now settles more than half of all transactions on our marketplace instantly. Our logistics network, LuminaXpress, opened 42 new sortation centers and cut average delivery time in our top ten cities to under 14 hours.

Gross Merchandise Value across the platform reached $41.6 billion, up 17%, powered by 142 million active customers and 3.2 million active sellers — both record highs. Advertising & Media, our youngest segment, crossed $1.2 billion in revenue as more sellers used Lumina Ads to reach shoppers directly on the app.

We also made 2025 a year of discipline. We closed our AI-driven fraud and recommendation platform, Aurora, which now screens more than 98% of transactions in real time and has lifted conversion on personalized recommendations by double digits. Aurora is also behind the seller-support chat assistant we rolled out in six languages this year, cutting seller support resolution time by a third.

None of this happens without the trust of the sellers, riders, warehouse teams and engineers who make Lumina run every day, and without shareholders who have backed a long runway to build real infrastructure in markets that are still being built themselves. Thank you for that trust. We enter 2026 with a stronger balance sheet, a wider moat, and a bigger opportunity ahead.

About Lumina

Lumina E-Commerce Corp. (“Lumina” or “the Company”) operates one of the largest online marketplaces in Southeast Asia, connecting shoppers, sellers, brands and financial partners across nine countries. Founded in 2014 and headquartered in Singapore, Lumina has expanded from a mobile-first marketplace into an integrated commerce platform spanning logistics, payments, and advertising.

Our strategy rests on four pillars that reinforce one another: a marketplace with deep local relevance, a proprietary logistics network built for emerging-market geography, a payments and financial-services layer that extends credit and instant settlement to sellers and buyers, and an advertising business that helps sellers grow within the platform. Together these businesses create a flywheel: more sellers improve selection, better logistics and payments improve trust and speed, and more shoppers in turn attract more sellers.

Marketplace

Our core marketplace lets consumers discover and buy from both third-party sellers and Lumina's own first-party retail operation. In 2025 we continued to invest in personalization through Aurora, our recommendation and search engine, and in live-commerce formats, which now account for approximately 9% of marketplace GMV.

Logistics & Fulfillment (LuminaXpress)

LuminaXpress operates a network of fulfillment centers, sortation hubs and a rider fleet supplemented by third-party couriers. In 2025 we opened 42 new sortation centers and expanded same-day delivery coverage to 61 cities, reducing average delivery time in our top ten cities to under 14 hours.

Digital Payments (Lumina Pay)

Lumina Pay provides digital wallets, checkout, buy-now-pay-later instalments, and working-capital financing for sellers. Payment volume processed through Lumina Pay reached $9.1 billion in 2025, up 31% year over year, with instant settlement now available to more than half of active sellers.

Advertising & Media (Lumina Ads)

Lumina Ads allows sellers and brands to promote products through sponsored placements, in-app media and livestream promotion. This segment grew 8.6% in 2025 as we broadened self-serve tools for small and medium sellers, our fastest-growing advertiser cohort.

Management Discussion & Analysis

Segment Results

The following table presents revenue and growth by reportable segment for fiscal years 2025 and 2024, both as reported and adjusted for currency.

Segment ($ in millions)	FY2025	FY2024	YoY % (reported)
Marketplace	$7,940	$6,905	+15.0%
Logistics & Fulfillment	$3,760	$3,230	+16.4%
Digital Payments	$1,920	$1,540	+24.7%
Advertising & Media	$1,200	$1,105	+8.6%
Total revenue	$14,820	$12,780	+16.0%

Marketplace revenue grew 15.0%, reflecting continued growth in active buyers and average order frequency, partially offset by targeted price investments in newer Gulf-region markets. Logistics & Fulfillment revenue grew 16.4% as third-party sellers increasingly adopted LuminaXpress fulfillment services ahead of building their own logistics capability. Digital Payments was again our fastest-growing segment, up 24.7%, driven by growth in instalment financing and instant-settlement adoption among sellers. Advertising & Media grew 8.6%, a moderation from 2024 as large brand advertisers paced spending amid a cautious macro environment, partially offset by strong growth from small and medium sellers on self-serve tools.

Geographic Revenue

Region ($ in millions)	FY2025	FY2024	YoY % (reported)
Southeast Asia	$10,910	$9,690	+12.6%
South Asia	$2,430	$1,970	+23.4%
Gulf & Other Emerging Markets	$1,480	$1,120	+32.1%
Total revenue	$14,820	$12,780	+16.0%

Southeast Asia, our home region, remained the largest contributor to revenue and grew 12.6% on continued category expansion in groceries and everyday essentials. South Asia grew 23.4% as we scaled logistics infrastructure in newly entered cities. Gulf & Other Emerging Markets grew 32.1%, the fastest of any region, though it remains a modest share of total revenue as we continue to invest ahead of scale.

Operating Expenses & Margin

Total operating expenses grew 11.7% year over year, slower than revenue growth of 16.0%, reflecting operating leverage from our logistics network and disciplined marketing spend. Sales and marketing expense declined to 12.1% of revenue from 13.6% in 2024, as brand awareness in our core markets reduced the need for performance-marketing spend. Technology and infrastructure investment, including the build-out of Aurora, was $980 million, or 6.6% of revenue, up from 6.2% in 2024, reflecting continued investment in AI-driven personalization and fraud prevention.

Liquidity, Capital Resources & Capital Return

At December 31, 2025, Lumina held $4.2 billion in cash, cash equivalents and short-term investments, compared with $3.1 billion at the end of 2024. The Company generated $1.9 billion in cash from operating activities and $1.65 billion in free cash flow. During the year, the Board authorized a $500 million share repurchase program, of which the Company had repurchased $300 million as of year end. Lumina does not currently pay a dividend, consistent with our continued reinvestment in logistics and payments infrastructure.

Outlook

For fiscal year 2026, management expects total revenue growth in the mid-to-high teens, continued gross margin expansion of 100 to 150 basis points, and free cash flow growth outpacing revenue growth as logistics and payments infrastructure investments made in 2024 and 2025 begin to scale. We expect Digital Payments to remain our fastest-growing segment, and plan to enter two additional Gulf-region markets in 2026.
